مقدمة الكتاب الثاني

تعلمت فى الكتاب الأول طرفاً من أساليب اللغة العربية، وألممت ببعض مفرداتها ، ولاحظت أننا توخينا فيما عرضناه عليك من أساليب ومفردات أنها مما يجرى على ألسنة المتعلمين من العرب فى حياتهم اليومية . وكان غرضنا من هذا الكتاب أن نقدم إليك صورة عامة للغة العربية الحديثة ، فلم نخض فى التفاصيل النحوية ، ولم نورد من المفردات إلا ما هو سهل اللفظ قريب المعنى ؛ ذلك لأن هدفنا هو أن نساعدك على التمكن من فهم العربية السهلة إذا قرأتها مكتوبة أو سمعتها ملفوظة ، وأن نعينك على كتابة بعض الألفاظ والأساليب الشائعة الاستعمال فى الحياة اليومية .

والآن نريد فى هذا الكتاب بأجزائه الأربعة * أن نعرض عليك القواعد النحوية الأساسية للغة العربية فى نسق متصل ومنهج متماسك ، وأن نزيد ثروتك اللغوية زيادة كبيرة ، فتتمكن من التعمق فى فهم العربية ومن كتابة بعض الجمل العربية المركبة . وفى سبيل هذه الغاية راعينا أن تكون الدروس متنوعة الموضوعات حتى يكون هناك مجال فسيح للمفردات اللغوية ، ولكن دون أن نبتعد عن شئون الحياة اليومية . وفى سبيل هذه الغاية أيضاً راعينا أن يخصص كل درس لدراسة موضوع نحوى معين ؛ وذلك فى نطاق منهج نحوى عام وضعناه منذ البداية ، فيكون كل درس مكملا للدرس السابق وممهداً للدرس اللاحق .

ونحب أن نلفت نظرك إلى أننا قسمنا كل درس إلى ثلاثة أجزاء : مادة القراءة ، والملاحظات النحوية ، والتمرينات . وموضوع مادة القراءة هو عنوان الدرس ، وتجده دائماً فى رأس كل درس . وقد راعينا فى مادة القراءة هذه البساطة والسهولة والقصد المباشر إلى القاعدة النحوية التى نريدها من الدرس . وهذه القاعدة النحوية هى مادة الملاحظات النحوية التى تأتى عقب ذلك . ومنهجنا فى هذه الملاحظات النحوية هو أن نورد بعض الأمثلة من مادة القراءة ، ثم نبين ما تنطوى عليه من قواعد نحوية. وقد أردنا أن تلم ببعض الإلمام بالمصطلحات النحوية العربية ؛ ولذلك أوردنا منها ما نعتقد أنه نافع لك فى هذه المرحلة. وتأتى التمرينات فى آخر الدرس، وهى مستقاة أولا من مادة القراءة الخاصة بالدرس، ثم من الدروس التى مرت بك فى الكتاب الأول؛ ولهذا أحلناك فى بعض هذه التمرينات إلى دروس معينة فى الكتاب الأول لترجع إليها .

* يبدأ هذا الكتاب بالدرس الثاني والخميس، لأنه استكمال للكتاب الأول.

وقد التزمنا فى هذا الكتاب ضبط كل كلمة ضبطاً كاملا (سواء أكانت فى مادة القواعد أم فى الملاحظات النحوية أم فى التمرينات) . أما الكتابة الصوتية فقد التزمناها فى مادة القراءة فقط ، وأسقطناها فى الملاحظات النحوية والتمرينات لأنها تشتمل على ألفاظ مرت بك فعلا إما فى الدرس نفسه وإما فى الكتاب الأول ، فلا حاجة بك إلى الكتابة الصوتية الخاصة بها . هذا إلى أننا نريد أن تعتاد قراءة الكلمات العربية مستعينا بالحركات وحدها دون أن تعتمد على الكتابة الصوتية ، فالحركات العربية كفيلة بأن ترشدك إلى النطق الصحيح . ولا تنس أن الاستماع الدقيق إلى المذيع العربى ، والتدريب على محاكاته هما خير سبيل إلى القراءة الصحيحة ، والنطق السليم .

ولهذا رأينا أن نسقط الكتابة الصوتية من الجزءين الثالث والرابع ، مكتفين بضبط كل كلمة ضبطاً كاملا . وقد ساعدناك بالكتابة الصوتية فى ستة أجزاء كاملة (الأجزاء الأربعة التى يتكون منها الكتاب الأول ، والجزءان الأول والثانى من الكتاب الحالى) ، وعليك فى الجزءين الباقيين (الجزءين الثالث والرابع من الكتاب الحالى) أن تعتمد على نفسك فى قراءة الكلمات العربية مستعيناً بالحركات وبأداء المذيع العربى .

وتجد فى أول كل جزء من أجزاء هذا الكتاب فهرساً يشتمل على رقم الدرس ، ورقم صفحته ، وعنوانه ، والموضوع النحوى الذى يتناوله . وفى آخر كل جزء قاموس أبجدى للكلمات الجديدة التى وردت فيه مع الترجمة الإنجليزية لكل كلمة . وقد ضبطنا كل كلمة من هذه الكلمات ضبطاً كاملا ، فأغنيناك عن كتابتها الصوتية . وستلاحظ أننا أوردنا الأسماء وهى فى حالة الرفع إلا إذا كانت مثناة أو مجموعة جمع مذكر سالماً فقد أثبتناها بصورها التى وردت فعلا فى الدروس . والتزمنا إسقاط أداة التعريف إلا فى الحالات التى تتغير فيها صورة الكلمة عند حذف أداة التعريف منها .

INTRODUCTION

In Book One you were shown some patterns of the Arabic language and given some of its vocabulary. These patterns and words were selected from those used by educated Arabs in their daily life.

Since the ultimate aim of Book One was to give you a general picture of modern classical Arabic, the authors did not indulge in grammatical details and gave only those words thought to be relatively easy in pronunciation and meaning. Their intention was to help you acquire the ability to pronounce, read and write common Arabic expressions and sentences.

The aim of Book Two, with its four parts*, however, is to give you the essential rules of Arabic grammar in a coherent system and to enrich your vocabulary, so that you may be able to understand Arabic more deeply and write more complex sentences. To fulfil this aim, the authors have made the lessons varied enough to help you accumulate as many words as possible but without departing from everyday situations. Furthermore, each lesson is based on a specific grammatical subject which constitutes an integral part of the general grammar syllabus set in advance; thus, each lesson complements the lesson preceding it and prepares for the one following it.

Each lesson is divided into three parts: reading material, grammatical notes, and exercises. The subject of the reading material is always indicated by the title at the top of each lesson. The reading material is lucid and simple and directly serves the grammatical subject dealt with. The reading material is followed by grammatical notes which explain the pertinent grammatical rules. The grammatical notes are based on examples selected from the reading material. As the authors of the book wish you to know a number of Arabic grammatical terms, they have mentioned those which are thought to be useful to you at this stage. The grammatical notes are followed by exercises based, first of all, on the reading material of the lesson concerned and, secondly, on previous lessons in Book One to which you are occasionally referred.

The authors would like to draw your attention to the fact that each word, be it in the reading material, in the grammatical notes or in the exercises, is given with complete diacritical marks (i.e. marks placed above or below the letters to indicate pronunciation). The use of phonetic transcription has been limited to the reading material, since the words used in the grammatical notes and the exercises have previously been transcribed. It is desirable that you should eventually get into the habit of reading Arabic with the help of diacritical marks alone. It must be noted, in this respect, that Arabic diacritics are clear and precise and, if closely observed, will lead you to accurate pronunciation. It must also be noted that careful listening to the announcer is the best way towards accurate pronunciation and correct reading.

* This book begins with lesson 52, being a continuation of Book One which ends with lesson 51.

The authors, therefore, thought it sound to drop the use of phonetic transcription in the third and fourth parts of this book, so that you may depend entirely on the complete diacritical marks carried by each word. You have been given the help of phonetic transcription in six complete parts (viz. the four parts of Book One, and the first and second parts of Book Two). In reading the language material contained in the third and fourth parts of this book, you will have to rely entirely upon the oral model given by the announcer and the diacritical marks reflecting it.

Each of the four parts of this book begins with a table of contents showing the number of each lesson, the number of the page on which it begins, its title and its grammatical subject. Each part ends with an alphabetical glossary of the words occurring in it; each Arabic word has complete diacritical marks and is accompanied by its English equivalent. Nouns are generally listed in the nominative case; duals and sound masculine plurals, however, are listed in the case they actually assume in the pertinent lessons. The definite article « ال » is not indicated except in those words which change form when the article is not prefixed to them.

GRAMMATICAL NOTES — اَلْمُلَاحَظَاتُ النَّحْوِيَّةُ

Read the following words:

faatimatu	فَاطِمَةُ	maajidun	مَاجِدٌ
ʔalkitaabu	اَلْكِتَابُ	kitaabun	كِتَابٌ
ʔaddarsu	اَلدَّرْسُ	darsun	دَرْسٌ

Note that each of these words denotes a person or a thing and is called a NOUN « إِسْمٌ ».

Note also that, in Arabic, a noun is identified by the suffix « nunation » or the prefix « ʔal ». Nunation occurs at the end of a noun and indicates that it is indefinite. « ʔal » (the definite article) occurs at the beginning of a noun and indicates that it is definite.

Note that in the word ʔaddarsu اَلدَّرْسُ the definite article ʔal occurs in its assimilated form.

Read the following words: اِقْرَأْ الْكَلِمَاتِ الْآتِيَةَ :

fataha	فَتَحَ	jalasa	جَلَسَ
šaraha	شَرَحَ	nataqa	نَطَقَ
		qaraʔa	قَرَأَ
tastamiʕu	تَسْتَمِعُ	yastamiʕu	يَسْتَمِعُ
tantiqu	تَنْطِقُ	yantiqu	يَنْطِقُ
taqraʔu	تَقْرَأُ	yaqraʔu	يَقْرَأُ

Note that each of these words indicates an action either past or present-future and is called a VERB « فِعْلٌ ».

Read the following words: اِقْرَأْ الْكَلِمَاتِ الْآتِيَةَ :

fii	فِي	ʔilaa	إِلَى
wa	وَ	min	مِنْ
		θumma	ثُمَّ

Note that each of these words cannot function as a noun or verb and that it acquires its meaning only when related to other words. Such a word is called a PARTICLE « حَرْفٌ ».

Thus a word, in Arabic, is either a noun إِسْمٌ , a verb فِعْلٌ or a particle حَرْفٌ.

EXERCISES — تمرينات

1. Underline the nouns in the following words:

أَحْضَرَ ـ كَلِمَةٌ ـ اَلْمُعَلِّمُ ـ وَرَاءَ ـ تَنْطِقُ ـ جُمْلَةٌ .

2. Underline the verbs in the following words:

اَلْجُمَلُ ـ اِنْتَهَى ـ اَلْكَلِمَاتُ ـ اِسْتَمَعَ ـ رَاجِعْ ـ اَللُّغَةُ .

3. Classify the words in the following sentences into verbs, nouns and particles:

أَحْضَرَ مَاجِدٌ الْكِتَابَ ، وَجَلَسَ إِلَى مَكْتَبِهِ .

نَتَعَلَّمُ اللُّغَةَ الْعَرَبِيَّةَ مِنَ الرَّادْيُو .

4. Supply three more examples of each of the following parts of speech:

a particle حَرْفٌ	a verb فِعْلٌ	a noun اِسْمٌ
إِلَى	قَالَ	اَلْكِتَابُ
. . .	. . .	. . .
. . .	. . .	. . .

GRAMMATICAL NOTES — اَلْمُلَاحَظَاتُ النَّحْوِيَّةُ

A. Read the following words: اِقْرَأْ الْكَلِمَاتِ الْآتِيَةَ :

samiʕa	سَمِعَ	qaala	قَالَ
kataba	كَتَبَ	naṭaqa	نَطَقَ

Note that each of these words is a verb denoting an action that took place in the past.

It is called the past tense verb « اَلْفِعْلُ الْمَاضِي ».

B. Read the following words: اِقْرَأْ الْكَلِمَاتِ الْآتِيَةَ :

nuraajiʕu	نُرَاجِعُ	ʔasmaʕu	أَسْمَعُ
taquulu	تَقُولُ	yanṭiqu	يَنْطِقُ

Each of these words is a verb that denotes an action in the present or the future.

It is called the present tense verb « اَلْفِعْلُ الْمُضَارِعُ ».

Note that the present tense begins by one of these letters:

أ ــ ن ــ ى ــ ت

C. Read the following words: اِقْرَأْ الْكَلِمَاتِ الْآتِيَةَ :

ʔinṭiq	اِنْطِقْ	ʔaʕid	أَعِدْ
		ʔiqraʔ	اِقْرَأْ

Each of these words is a verb that expresses a request or gives an order.

It is called the imperative « فِعْلُ الْأَمْرِ ».

Thus the verb, in Arabic, is either past, present or imperative.

GRAMMATICAL NOTES — اَلْمُلَاحَظَاتُ النَّحْوِيَّةُ

A. Read the following words: — اِقْرَأِ الْكَلِمَاتِ الْآتِيَةَ :

		manzilun	مَنْزِلٌ	ʕammun	عَمٌّ

Each of these words is a noun indicating a masculine singular «مُفْرَدٌ مُذَكَّرٌ».

B. Read the following words: — اِقْرَأِ الْكَلِمَاتِ الْآتِيَةَ :

maħaṭṭatun	مَحَطَّةٌ	ʔalqaahiratu	اَلْقَاهِرَةُ	ʔalqaryatu	اَلْقَرْيَةُ

Each of these words is a noun indicating a feminine singular «مُفْرَدَةٌ مُؤَنَّثَةٌ».

Note that a feminine singular noun ends with « ـةٌ — ةٌ » which is pronounced « ه » in pause. This feminine ending is called « اَلتَّاءُ الْمَرْبُوطَةُ ».

Thus nouns in Arabic fall into two groups: masculine and feminine.

GRAMMATICAL NOTES — اَلْمُلَاحَظَاتُ النَّحْوِيَّةُ

A. Read the following words: — : اِقْرَأِ الْكَلِمَاتِ الْآتِيَةَ

nihaadu	نِهَادُ
suʕaadu	سُعَادُ
ʔassamaaʔu	اَلسَّمَاءُ
ʔaššamsu	اَلشَّمْسُ

Each of these nouns indicates a feminine singular « مُفْرَدَةٌ مُؤَنَّثَةٌ ».
Note that they do not have the feminine ending « ة — ـة ».
This shows that some feminine nouns do not have the feminine ending.
Other example are:

(an eye)	ʕaynun	عَيْنٌ
(an ear)	ʔuðunun	أُذُنٌ
(a hand)	yadun	يَدٌ
(a leg)	rijlun	رِجْلٌ
(a foot)	qadamun	قَدَمٌ

B. A feminine noun that indicates a person or an animal that bears children or lays eggs is called a genuine feminine « مُؤَنَّثٌ حَقِيقِيٌّ ». A few examples are:

suʕaadu	سُعَادُ	faaṭimatu	فَاطِمَةُ
baqaratun	بَقَرَةٌ	nihaadu	نِهَادُ
		wazzatun	وَزَّةٌ

But a feminine noun that indicates a thing which does not bear children or lay eggs is called a non-genuine feminine «مُؤَنَّثٌ مَجَازِيٌّ». A few examples are:

ṣahiifatun	صَحِيفَةٌ	šajaratun	شَجَرَةٌ
		sayyaaratun	سَيَّارَةٌ
ʕayun	عَيْنٌ	šamsun	شَمْسٌ

C. Read the following:

اَخَذَ أَحْمَدُ صَحِيفَةَ الْأَخْبَارِ . وَأَخَذَتْ نِهَادُ صَحِيفَةَ الْجُمْهُورِيَّةِ .

Note that the verb used with the feminine noun (نِهَادُ) has the ending « تْ » but does not have it when used with the masculine noun (أَحْمَدُ).

D. Read the following:

يَقْرَأُ نَبِيلٌ أَخْبَارَ الرِّيَاضَةِ . وَتَقْرَأُ نِهَادُ النَّشْرَةَ الْجَوِّيَّةَ .

Note that the present tense verb (يَقْرَأُ) used with the masculine noun (نَبِيلٌ) has the prefix « يَـ » whereas it has the prefix « تَ » i.e. تَقْرَأُ when used with the feminine noun (نِهَادُ).

Thus :

نَبِيلٌ يَقْرَأُ

نِهَادُ تَقْرَأُ

EXERCISES تمرينات

GRAMMATICAL NOTES — اَلْمُلَاحَظَاتُ النَّحْوِيَّةُ

1. Read the following: اِقْرَأِ الْآتِيَ :

يَسْتَطِيعُ السَّائِرُ الْعُبُورَ – يَسْتَطِيعُ السَّائِرُونَ الْعُبُورَ .

اَلنُّورُ الْأَحْمَرُ أَمَامَ السَّائِرِ – النُّورُ الْأَحْمَرُ أَمَامَ السَّائِرِينَ .

The word اَلسَّائِرُ is masculine singular and it has two plural forms: اَلسَّائِرُونَ – اَلسَّائِرِينَ. These plural forms are formed from the singular by adding either the suffix -uuna « ـُونَ » or the suffix -iina « ـِينَ » according to certain grammatical rules that will be dealt with later on.

These two plural forms are called 'sound masculine plurals' « جَمْعُ مُذَكَّرٍ سَالِمٌ ».

اَلسَّائِرُونَ = اَلسَّائِرُ + ونَ

اَلسَّائِرِينَ = اَلسَّائِرِ + ينَ

2. Read the following: اِقْرَأِ الْآتِيَ :

عَبَرَتِ الْجَمَاعَةُ الْمَيْدَانَ ، وَعَبَرَتْ جَمَاعَاتُ النَّاسِ الْمَيْدَانَ .

The word جَمَاعَات is the plural form of the feminine singular word جَمَاعَة.
It is formed from the singular by adding the suffix -aat « ـات » after dropping the feminine singular ending « ـة ».

It is called 'sound feminine plural' « جَمْعُ مُؤَنَّثٍ سَالِمٌ ».

Other examples are :

اَلسَّيَّارَةُ – اَلسَّيَّارَاتُ

اَلْعَرَبَةُ – اَلْعَرَبَاتُ

3. Read the following: اِقْرَأِ الآتِيَ :

هَذَا شَارِعٌ وَاسِعٌ – شَوَارِعُ الْمَدِينَةِ وَاسِعَةٌ .

The word شَوَارِعُ is the plural of the masculine singular word شَارِعٌ. It is formed from the singular by internal change. It is called 'broken plural' « جَمْعُ تَكْسِيرٍ ».

Unlike 'sound' plurals which are formed by adding suffixes to the singular form, 'broken' plurals are formed by changing the singular form. Broken plural patterns are very numerous, and it is not always possible to forecast from singular to plural or vice versa. You should, therefore, learn both the singular and plural of nouns as you meet them.

Following are other examples:

شُرْطِيٌّ	شُرْطَةٌ
مَيْدَانٌ	مَيَادِينُ
خَفِيرٌ	خُفَرَاءُ
مَدِينَةٌ	مُدُنٌ
اَلْقَرْيَةُ	اَلْقُرَى

GRAMMATICAL NOTES — اَلْمُلَاحَظَاتُ النَّحْوِيَّةُ

1. Read the following sentences paying special attention to the underlined words:

نَزَلَ الْفَرِيقُ – دَارَ الْفَرِيقَانِ – صَفَّقَ النَّاسُ لِلْفَرِيقَيْنِ .

The word اَلْفَرِيقُ in the first sentence denotes ONE and it is, therefore, called SINGULAR.

The word اَلْفَرِيقَانِ in the second sentence denotes TWO and it is, therefore, called DUAL.

The word اَلْفَرِيقَيْنِ in the third sentence also denotes TWO and it is called DUAL.

Note that the DUAL is formed from the SINGULAR by adding either the suffix -aani « انِ » or the suffix -ayni « يْنِ » according to grammatical rules which will be dealt with later on.

2. Read the following sentences observing the underlined DUAL nouns:

وَقَفَ الظَّهِيرَانِ . وَقَفَ الْحَكَمُ بَيْنَ الْفَرِيقَيْنِ .

وَقَفَ الْجَنَاحَانِ . أَحْرَزَ الْفَرِيقُ هَدَفَيْنِ .

A Dual noun may be either masculine as in the previous examples or feminine as in the following ones:

ʔalwardataani jamiilataani The two roses are beautiful.	اَلْوَرْدَتَانِ جَمِيلَتَانِ .
qaṭafat suʕaadu wardatayni Suad picked two roses.	قَطَفَتْ سُعَادُ وَرْدَتَيْنِ .

GRAMMATICAL NOTES — اَلْمُلَاحَظَاتُ النَّحْوِيَّةُ

1. Read the following words:

دَرْسٌ	قِسْمٌ	كُلِّيَّةٌ	جَامِعَةٌ
darsun	qismun	kulliyyatun	jaamiʕatun

nabiilun (Nabil - « « «) — نَبِيلٌ

kulliyyatu‿ssaydalati (the College of Pharmacology) كُلِّيَّةُ الصَّيْدَلَةِ

GRAMMATICAL NOTES　　اَلْمُلَاحَظَاتُ النَّحْوِيَّةُ

1. هَذَا طَابَعٌ وهَذَا طَابَعٌ . هَذَانِ طَابَعَانِ .

Thus:　　هَذَا + هَذَا = هَذَانِ (هَذَيْنِ)

2. هَذِهِ مَجْمُوعَةُ نَبِيلٍ . وَهَذِهِ مَجْمُوعَةُ نِهَادَ . هَاتَانِ مَجْمُوعَتَانِ .

هَاتَانِ and هَاتَيْنِ are the two dual forms of the feminine singular demonstrative pronoun هَذِهِ . The use of هَاتَانِ or هَاتَيْنِ is also determined by certain grammatical rules which will be dealt with later on.

GRAMMATICAL NOTES ## اَلْمُلاَحَظَاتُ النَّحْوِيَّةُ

1. We have known five kinds of definite nouns. They are : proper nouns, noun defined by ʔal, pronouns, relative and demonstrative pronouns.

To these, this lesson adds the construct, the geninitive of which is any of these five kinds of definite nouns.

Note that the construct «اَلْمُضَافُ» is the noun preceding the genitive «اَلْمُضَافُ إِلَيْهِ».

2. هَذِهِ مَجَلَّةُ نَبِيلٍ ، وَتِلْكَ مَجَلَّةُ نِهَادَ .

The word «مَجَلَّة» is definite because its genitive is the proper noun «نَبِيل» in the first sentence, and the proper noun «نِهَاد» in the second.

Another example:

هَذَا مَكْتَبُ نَبِيلٍ ، وَذَلِكَ مَكْتَبُ نِهَادَ .

3. قَرَأَ نَبِيلٌ مَجَلَّتَهُ ، قَرَأَتْ نِهَادُ مَجَلَّتَهَا .

The word «مَجَلَّة» is definite because its genitive is the pronoun «ـهُ» in the first sentence and the pronoun «هَا» in the second.

Another example:

وَضَعَهَا عَلَى مَكْتَبِهِ ، وَوَضَعَتْهَا عَلَى مَكْتَبِهَا .

4. جَمَعَ نَبِيلٌ وَنِهَادُ أَعْدَادَ السَّنَةِ الْمَاضِيَةِ

The word «أَعْدَاد» is definite because its genitive is a noun defined by «الْ», namely «اَلسَّنَة»

Another example:

فِي صَبَاحِ الْغَدِ .

5. أَيْنَ دُكَّانُ هَذَا الْمُجَلِّدِ ؟

The word « دُكَّانُ » is definite because its genitive is the demonstrative pronoun « هَذَا » .

Another example:

نُحِبُّ تَجْلِيدَ هَاتَيْنِ الْمَجْمُوعَتَيْنِ .

6. اَلسَّاعَةُ جَائِزَةُ الَّذِي يَفُوزُ فِي السِّبَاقِ .

ʔassaaʕatu jaaʔizatu͡ llaðii yafuuzu fi͡ ssibaaqi
The watch is the prize of that who wins the race.

The word « جَائِزَةُ » is definite because its genitive is the relative pronoun « اَلَّذِي »

Another example:

النَّجَاحُ عَاقِبَةُ الَّذِينَ يَجْتَهِدُونَ .

ʔannajaaħu ʕaaqibatu͡ llaðiina yajtahiduuna
Success is the reward of those who work hard.

GRAMMATICAL NOTES — اَلْمُلَاحَظَاتُ النَّحْوِيَّةُ

1. اَلرَّبِيعُ جَمِيلٌ . اَلشَّمْسُ سَاطِعَةٌ . اَلْأَشْجَارُ مُورِقَةٌ

Note that each of these sentences begins with a noun. Such a sentence is called a nominal sentence.

2. يَأْتِي الشِّتَاءُ . يَشْتَدُّ الْبَرْدُ . يَسْقُطُ الْمَطَرُ .

Note that each of these sentences begins with a verb. Such a sentence is called a verbal sentence.

3. A sentence, be it nominal or verbal, consists of two basic parts. A nominal sentence consists of a subject and a predicate. For example, the sentence « اَلرَّبِيعُ جَمِيلٌ » consists of the subject « اَلرَّبِيعُ » and the predicate « جَمِيلٌ ».

Thus a subject and a predicate constitute a nominal sentence.

A verbal sentence consists of a verb and a noun functioning as subject. For example, the sentence « يَأْتِي الشِّتَاءُ » consists of the verb « يَأْتِي » and its subject « اَلشِّتَاءُ » .

Thus a verb and a subject constitute a verbal sentence.

GRAMMATICAL NOTES — اَلْمُلَاحَظَاتُ النَّحْوِيَّةُ

1. اَلْجَنَاحَانِ ضَعِيفَانِ . اَلرَّأْسَانِ مُتَشَابِهَانِ .

The subject in each of these two sentences is masculine dual (اَلرَّأْسَانِ – اَلْجَنَاحَانِ); the predicate agrees with it in number and gender (مُتَشَابِهَانِ – ضَعِيفَانِ). Both subject and predicate are in the nominative case which is here indicated by (ا) in the ending (ـَانِ).

2. اَلرِّجْلَانِ قَوِيَّتَانِ . اَلْأُذُنَانِ كَبِيرَتَانِ .

The subject in each of these two sentences is feminine dual (اَلْأُذُنَانِ – اَلرِّجْلَانِ). The predicate agrees with it in number and gender (كَبِيرَتَانِ – قَوِيَّتَانِ). Both the subject and the predicate are in the nominative case which is here indicated by (ا) in the ending (ـَانِ).

3. اَلْعَقْرَبُ وَالثُّعْبَانُ سَامَّانِ .

The subject is masculine singular (اَلْعَقْرَبُ). It is in the nominative case, the case ending being (اَلضَّمَّةُ). Since the masculine singular (اَلثُّعْبَانُ) is joined to it by (وَ), the combination (اَلْعَقْرَبُ وَالثُّعْبَانُ) conveys a dual meaning. The predicate (سَامَّانِ) is therefore masculine dual.

4. اَلْوَزَّةُ وَالْبَطَّةُ مُتَشَابِهَتَانِ .

The subject is feminine singular (اَلْوَزَّةُ). It is in the nominative case, the case ending being (اَلضَّمَّةُ) . Since the feminine singular (اَلْبَطَّةُ) is joined to it by (وَ) , the combination (اَلْوَزَّةُ وَالْبَطَّةُ) conveys a dual meaning. The predicate (مُتَشَابِهَتَانِ) is therefore feminine dual.

5. هُمَا طَائِرَانِ . هُمَا حَيَوَانَانِ .

The dual pronoun (هُمَا) is subject in the two sentences. The predicate in the first sentence is (طَائِرَانِ) and in the second (حَيَوَانَانِ) . Each predicate is a dual in the nominative case.

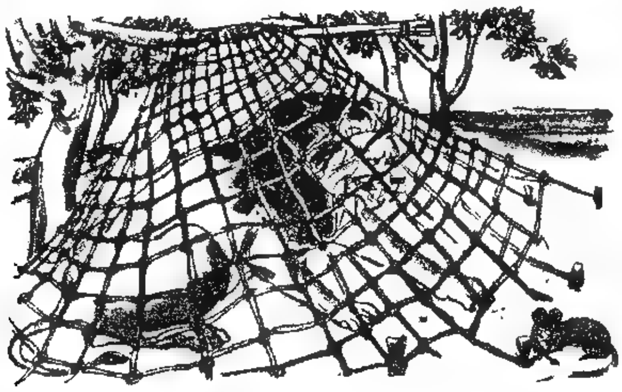
We should not despise a small creature for being small; everything has its advantage. "



GRAMMATICAL NOTES — اَلْمُلَاحَظَاتُ النَّحْوِيَّةُ

1. You have already learnt that a nominal sentence consists of a subject and a predicate. A predicate may be singular, dual or plural. It may be masculine or feminine.
2. This lesson introduces another kind of predicate.

Read the following sentence:

اَلْفَأْرُ فِي الْجُحْرِ .

It is a nominal sentence consisting of a subject (اَلْفَأْرُ) and a predicate (فِي الْجُحْرِ) . Note that the predicate consists of a preposition (فِي) and a noun (اَلْجُحْرِ) . Note also that the noun following the preposition ends with the vowel (اَلْكَسْرَةُ) ; it is in the genitive case. Other examples are:

اَلْأَسَدُ فِي هَيَاجٍ – اَلْفَأْرُ فِي خَوْفٍ .

The first sentence consists of a subject (اَلْأَسَدُ) and a predicate (فِي هَيَاجٍ). Similarly, the second sentence consists of a subject (اَلْفَأْرُ) and a predicate (فِي خَوْفٍ) .

3. Read the following sentence:

اَلْفَأْرُ فَوْقَ الشَّجَرَةِ .

It is a nominal sentence. It consists of a subject (اَلْفَأْرُ) and a predicate (فَوْقَ الشَّجَرَةِ) . The predicate is an adverbial phrase of place. Similarly, the sentence (اَلْعَفْوُ عِنْدَ الْمَقْدِرَةِ) consists of a subject (اَلْعَفْوُ) and a predicate (عِنْدَ الْمَقْدِرَةِ) ; the predicate is an adverbial phrase of time.

Thus a predicate may be a prepositional or an adverbial phrase.

4. Read the following sentence:

لِلصَّغِيرِ مَزِيَّةٌ .

It is a nominal sentence consisting of a subject (مَزِيَّةٌ) and a predicate (لِلصَّغِيرِ) . The predicate consists of a preposition and a noun.

Note that the predicate precedes the subject.

Note also that the subject is an indefinite noun. This shows that when a subject is an indefinite noun and the predicate consists of a preposition and a noun, the predicate must precede the subject.

The predicate also precedes the subject when the former is an adverbial phrase and the latter an indefinite noun:

فَوْقَ الشَّجَرَةِ فَأْرٌ .

If the subject is definite and the predicate is a prepositional or an adverbial phrase, the predicate may precede or follow the subject:

اَلْفَأْرُ فِي الْجُحْرِ أَوْ فِي الْجُحْرِ اَلْفَأْرُ .

اَلْفَأْرُ فَوْقَ الشَّجَرَةِ أَوْ فَوْقَ الشَّجَرَةِ اَلْفَأْرُ .

GRAMMATICAL NOTES ## اَلْمُلَاحَظَاتُ النَّحْوِيَّةُ

1. تَبْدَأُ الْقَنَاةُ مِنْ مِينَاءِ السُّوَيْسِ .
وَتَمُرُّ بِالْبُحَيْرَاتِ الْمُرَّةِ .
وَتَنْتَهِي إِلَى مِينَاءِ بُورْ سَعِيدَ .

These are three verbal sentences. Each consists of a verb, a subject and a complement consisting of a preposition and a noun.

The complement in the first sentence is (مِنْ مِينَاءِ), in the second (بِالْبُحَيْرَاتِ), and in the third (إِلَى مِينَاءِ) .

Note that the case ending of the noun after the preposition is (اَلْكَسْرَةُ) . This indicates that a preposition is followed by a noun in the genitive case.

2. تَعْبُرُ السُّفُنُ الْقَنَاةَ فِي الاتِّجَاهَيْنِ .

Note that the preposition in this sentence is (فِي) . The noun governed by the preposition is (الاتِّجَاهَيْنِ) . It is dual and is in the genitive case which is here indicated by (اَلْيَاءُ) in the ending (ـَيْنِ) .

3. فَقَدَتْ مِصْرُ كَثِيراً مِنَ الْمِصْرِيِّينَ .

The preposition is (مِنْ) . The noun governed by it is (اَلْمِصْرِيِّينَ) . It is a sound masculine plural in the genitive case which is here indicated by (اَلْيَاءُ) in the ending (ـِينَ) .

Thus the genitive case of both the dual and the sound masculine plural is indicated by (اَلْيَاءُ) . But the genitive case of the broken plural and the sound feminine plural is indicated by (اَلْكَسْرَةُ) as in the singular.

Broken plural: يَكْتُبُ التَّلَامِيذُ بِالْأَقْلَامِ .

Sound feminine plural: نَشْتَرِي الْبَيْضَ مِنَ الْفَلَّاحَاتِ .

4. This lesson introduces two new prepositions. They are:

عَلَى (عَلَى الْعَالَمِ)

اَللَّامُ (لِمَصْلَحَتِهَا) .

EXERCISES — تمرينات

1. Underline the preposition and the noun governed by it in the following: (Revise lesson 42)

(٥) أَحْضَرَ الطَّبِيبُ الدَّوَاءَ . . . . .

The noun (الرُّؤَسَاءِ) is the genitive of (طَاعَةُ) . It is a broken plural in the genitive case which is indicated here by (اَلْكَسْرَةُ).

GRAMMATICAL NOTES — اَلْمُلَاحَظَاتُ النَّحْوِيَّةُ

1. تَهْدِمُ الطَّائِرَاتُ الْمُدُنَ هَدْماً .

تُخَرِّبُ الطَّائِرَاتُ الْبِلَادَ تَخْرِيباً .

GRAMMATICAL NOTES — اَلْمُلَاحَظَاتُ النَّحْوِيَّةُ

1. اَلْقَاضِي عَادِلٌ . يَعْدِلُ الْقَاضِي .

The first sentence is nominal. It consists of a subject and a predicate.

The second sentence is verbal. It consists of a verb and a subject.

Each of the nominal subject, the predicate and the verbal subject is in the nominative case. The nominative case is indicated here by (اَلضَّمَّةُ) since the pertinent noun is singular. However, the nominative case ending (اَلضَّمَّةُ) of the subject (الْقَاضِي) is not explicit for phonetic reasons.

2. هُمَا سَعِيدَانِ . وَقَفَ الْمُتَّهَمَانِ أَمَامَ الْقَاضِي .

In the first sentence, the predicate is (سَعِيدَانِ). It is in the nominative case indicated here by (اَلْأَلِفُ) since it is a dual.

In the second sentence, the subject is (الْمُتَّهَمَانِ). It is in the nominative case indicated here by (اَلْأَلِفُ) since it is a dual.

3. اَلْقُضَاةُ عَادِلُونَ . يُدَافِعُ الْمُحَامُونَ عَنِ الْمُتَّهَمِينَ .

In the first sentence the subject is (اَلْقُضَاةُ). It is a broken plural in the nominative case which is indicated here by (اَلضَّمَّةُ). The predicate is (عَادِلُونَ). It is a sound masculine plural in the nominative case which is indicated here by (اَلْوَاوُ).

In the second sentence the subject is (الْمُحَامُونَ). It is a sound masculine plural in the nominative case which is indicated here by (اَلْوَاوُ).

4 اَلْمُتَّهَمُ أَمَامَ الْقَاضِي . اَلْكَلِمَةُ لِلْمُحَامِي .

In the first sentence the subject is (اَلْمُتَّهَمُ), and the predicate is the adverb of place (أَمَامَ).

In the second sentence, the subject is (اَلْكَلِمَةُ), and the predicate is the prepositional phrase (لِلْمُحَامِي) (preposition لِ + genitive اَلْمُحَامِي) .

5. أَمَامَ الْقَاضِي الْمَلَفُّ . لِلْمُتَّهَمِ مُحَامٍ .

In the first sentence, the predicate, which is the adverb of place (أَمَامَ), precedes the subject (اَلْمَلَفُّ) .

In the second sentence, the predicate which is the prepositional phrase (لِلْمُتَّهَمِ) precedes the subject (مُحَامٍ).

Such predicates may precede the subject if the latter is definite as (اَلْمَلَفُّ) in the first sentence. So we can equally say:

أَمَامَ الْقَاضِي الْمَلَفُّ . اَلْمَلَفُّ أَمَامَ الْقَاضِي .

However, these predicates must precede the subject if the latter is indefinite as in the second sentence. So we can only say: لِلْمُتَّهَمِ مُحَامٍ.

6. بَرَّأَ الْقَاضِي الْمُتَّهَمَ . أَوْرَدَ الْمُحَامِي الْأَدِلَّةَ .

The noun (اَلْمُتَّهَمَ) in the first sentence and (اَلْأَدِلَّةَ) in the second are direct objects. The direct object is in the accusative case which is indicated by (اَلْفَتْحَة) in the first sentence since the noun is a singular and also by (اَلْفَتْحَةُ) in the second since the noun is a broken plural.

7. دَافَعَ الْمُحَامِي دِفَاعاً .

The noun (دِفَاعاً) is an absolute accusative emphasizing the verb (دَافَعَ). It is in the accusative case indicated by (اَلْفَتْحَةُ).

8. يَعْدِلُ الْقَاضِي خَوْفاً مِنَ اللهِ . يَعْدِلُ الْقَاضِي احْتِرَاماً لِلْقَانُونِ .

The nouns (خَوْفاً) and (احْتِرَاماً) are accusatives of cause or reason.

They indicate the reason why the action expressed by the verb takes place. They are in the accusative case indicated by (اَلْفَتْحَةُ).

9. هَلَّلَ الْبَرِيءُ مَسْرُوراً .

غَادَرَ الْبَرِيءُ وَالْمُحَامِي الْقَاعَةَ سَعِيدَيْنِ .

The nouns (مَسْرُوراً) and (سَعِيدَيْنِ) are accusatives of state which indicate the state of the subject when the action takes place. The accusative of state is in the accusative case. This is indicated by (اَلْفَتْحَةُ) in the first sentence since the noun (مَسْرُوراً) is a singular, and by (اَلْيَاءُ) in the second since the noun (سَعِيدَيْنِ) is a dual.

10. يَحْكُمُ الْقَاضِي بِالْعَدْلِ . يَعْدِلُ الْقَاضِي بَيْنَ النَّاسِ

In the first sentence the prepositional phrase (بِالْعَدْلِ) is related to the verb (يَحْكُمُ). In the second sentence the adverb (بَيْنَ) is related to the verb (يَعْدِلُ).
